Truman Starts Tour, Fights Party Rebels

Talks Are Booked In 18 States

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, June 3 (AP)—President Truman, in a mood to fight for a new term, called his own signals today as he made ready to take his case to the people in 18 states.

To the latest suggestion that he withdraw from the race, Mr. Truman replied with a sharp declaration he was "not brought up to run from a fight."

The president left Democratic party chieftains on the sidelines in ordering up his special train for a strenuous speaking tour which may hold the answer to his political future.

The White House labelled the cross-country swing "non-political" but disclosed plans for five major addresses and a score or more off-the-cuff rear platform talks expected to furnish ammunition for the 1948 campaign.

Visits Flood Area

The itinerary of Mr. Truman's swing through the west will be changed slightly to permit him to visit flood damage areas in the northwest, White House officials said today.

The president's train will leave Washington at 10:05 p. m. (EST) tonight for Chicago. Enroute he will make brief platform talks tomorrow at Fort Wayne, Ind., at 1:20 p. m. (EST) and at Gary, Ind., at 3:45 p. m. (EST).

He will deliver a prepared address in Chicago at 9 p. m. (EST) at the Swedish-American Centennial celebration.

The presidential special will turn eastward again from Los Angeles the night of June 14.

It was in a letter to a fellow Missourian that Mr. Truman provided the clue to his determination to battle party rebels, most of them southerners incensed over his civil rights program.

Americans for Democratic action—the self-proclaimed Liberal political organization—made public the exchange of correspondence between the president and Dr. H. H. Brummall, Salisbury, Mo., dentist.

The letters began with a suggestion from Brummall May 15 that Mr. Truman "sacrifice personal prestige and political power" for the good of the party.

Dinner In Chicago

Brummall had supported former Gov. Lloyd Stark against Mr. Truman in the bitterly fought Missouri Democratic Senatorial primary in 1940. He said he voted for Mr. Truman in the general election but had backed Stark in the primary because the governor was an opponent of the Pender-

Five-Year Draft To Hit Snags

BY EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, June 3 (AP)—A five-year peacetime draft to meet the manpower needs of both the regular armed services and the reserves was laid before the Senate today as "the premium on our peace insurance policy."

This description came from Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services committee in a speech prepared for the opening of debate on the controversial measure.

Gurney and other GOP leaders hope to win Senate passage of the draft revival bill by early next week—possibly through extra hour sessions. But there is stormy debate and possible trouble ahead.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.)—with advance pledges of widespread southern support—has promised to fight for an amendment that would require the services to set up segregated white and Negro units for all men who asked to serve only with those of their own race.

On top of this, Senator Langer (R-ND.), an avowed foe of the draft, said he will offer seven amendments to cover President Truman's civil rights program.

Veterans Deferred

Under terms of the Senate bill, Gurney said drafted men after completing two years of service would have to serve in the reserve for five years. They could avoid this by volunteering for an additional year in the regular services, or two years in the national guard.

The 18 year olds who train for only one year would have to serve six years in the reserve or four years in the national guard.

If the one-year trainee declined either such an assignment, he could be called to active duty for another 12 months with the regular services.

Veterans with more than 18 months service between Sept. 16, 1940—date of the World War II draft law—and enactment of the new bill would be deferred along with those with more than 90 days' service during the "shooting war." That is defined as between Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, and VJ-Day, Aug. 14, 1945.

The bill includes authority for the government to seize plants and industries which fail to accept or fill government orders of the armed services.

House Speeds Vote On Navy Money Bill

Defense Fund Goes Over Ten Billion Mark

Washington, June 3 (AP)—A $3,686,733,250 Navy appropriation bill for the new fiscal year beginning July 1, was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

Washington, June 3 (AP) — The House greased the skids today for a $3,686,733,250 navy money bill, boosting to more than $10,000,000,0000 the defense funds voted in 24 hours.

The same quick passage that was given yesterday to a $6,509,939,000 army-air force appropriation measure was certain for the Navy bill.

The army-air force fund skimmed through the House by a 348 to 2 vote after less than two hours of listless debate. The only members who voted against it were Reps. Marcantonio and Isacson, New York American-Laborites, and they didn't talk against it.

Both bills require Senate approval before going to President Truman.

PENCIL STABS GOLFER

Jackson (AP)—Clarence Kellogg reported a new golf hazard Wednesday. A mechanical pencil point stuck in his left arm as he teed off. Surgery was required to remove the pencil, but Kellogg was released later from a local hospital.

Mediator To Fix Cease-Fire Hour In Palestine War

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Count Folke Bernadotte sought today an accord between Arabs and Jews on the exact hour of ending the fighting in Palestine, possibly by Sunday. He conferred in Egypt and arranged to fly to Amman, Tel Aviv and Beirut.

Goth sides have agreed to a four week armistice in the 20-day-old war. The chairman of the U. N. security council, Syrian Delegate Faris El Khouri, ruled the acceptances unconditional despite the five Jewish "assumptions" and the three Arab "explanations." The Swedish count was empowered as U. N. mediator to fix the moment for shooting to stop.

The Arabs said five days would be required because of poor communications to their five armies scattered through Palestine. The United States was reported ready to insist that the guns be stilled by Sunday.

While at least temporary peace has been agreed upon, the fighting went on in the Negreb desert and to the northeast and southeast of Tel Aviv.

Israel's foreign ministry made the costly mistake of unilaterally deciding the cease fire was effective at 6 p. m. EST last Tuesday, the hour when Arab and Jewish answers has to be filed. Neither the U. N. nor the Arabs had ordered the cease fire.

The Jews said the lull caused them to lose momentum in attacks on Jenin and Hulkarm in the strategic Arabic triangle of north-central Palestine. It caused cancellation of another offensive against an Egyptian armored force of up to 5,00 men deployed south of Tel Aviv. Arabs were given time to regroup their defense forces and prepare for new blows.

Convinced of their error, the Israelis cancelled the premature cease fire order last night.

The four-week armistice is parlayed with a total arms embargo to the seven Arab nations and Israel. Hatreds were so intense, and the expressed understandings of the truce conditions were so different that it was impossible to forecast whether real peace would actually come.

Bombers Stage Raid On Selfridge Field

Defense Pilots Report Air Base Saved

Detroit, June 3. (AP)—Young pilots who defended Selfridge Field against the nation's mightiest peacetime horde of bombers were confident today they had saved their base from becoming a theoretical rubble.

But the Air Force waited for pictures to tell the story.

The mock bombing raid over the Michigan base came with scant warning. It was the biggest the Air Force has staged since V-J day.

Target for the 200 B-29 bombers and 150 escort planes was the strategic Selfridge air base, located about 30 miles from Detroit's industrial arsenal.

The Air Force announced that bombers and the P-51 escort craft had assembled from all over the nation for the test. It remained mum, however, on the results.

Meanwhile, members of Selfridge's 56th Fighter Group gave their own version of the assault and the defense they put up with their P-80 jet planes.

Their reports were enthusiastic. "We gave them a real working over," one pilot reported after returning from the flight. "We intercepted the bombers very successfully and made a lot of passes at them."

Lt. Col. David Schilling, group commander and a wartime fighter ace, termed the defense action "a successful mission."

Reports from other quarters, however, were varied. Some group observers said the B-29's, carrying an estimated bomb load of 1,125 tons, could "have torn Detroit to bits."

Senate Passes Bill To Admit 200,000 Homeless Europeans

Washington, June 3. (AP)—The highly disputed bill to let 200,000 homeless Europeans enter the United States during the next two years went to the House today with the Senate's 63 to 13 endorsement.

One Republican, Sen. Hawkes (N. J.), and 12 southern Democrats cast the opposition votes last night after an 11-hour continuous session.

Early House approval of a similar bill is indicated since Republican leaders have placed a "must" tag on displaced persons legislation for this session.

The Senate bill would permit 100,000 carefully selected Europeans to come here in each of the next two years, starting in July. They would be in addition to the regular immigration quotas.

Jury Gives $1,200 To Muskegon Pair For False Arrest

Muskegon, Mich., June 3 (AP)—William Woldring, and his wife, Ada, were awarded a total of $1,200 yesterday by a circuit court jury in their suit for false arrest and assault and battery against two policemen.

Patrolman Joseph Chase of Muskegon was ordered to pay Woldring $1,100, and Patrolman Alex Fielstra of Muskegon Heights was ordered to pay Mrs. Woldring $100.

The couple had been acquitted of minor charges prefered by the two officers.

Rescue Ship Loses Disabled Jap Boat

Tokyo, June 3 (AP)—A U. S. Army B-17 sighted the Japanese fishing boat Taiyo Maru, adrift a month with 19 men aboard—but the vessel was lost again in stormy weather before a U. S. rescue ship could reach it.

The Army reported today the 64-ton boat, adrift between Okinawa and Guam, was last seen Sunday. The B-17 dropped food and water. Hunt for the vessel continued.

DETOUR ON US-2

Trucker Is Robbed Of $250 and Pants By Chicago Gunman

Chicago, June 3 (AP)—A chiseling gunman stripped a truck driver of part of his clothing yesterday after stealing $250 from the safe in his truck.

Arthur L. Fuller told police the robber who held him up as he was delivering parcels ordered him into the rear of the truck. He took a chisel and hammer from the tool box, broke open the truck's safe and stole $250.

Then he forced Fuller to remove his pants and shorts. He took them, too.

Shipment of Arms To Arabs Stopped

London, June 3 (AP)—Britain has stopped supplying arms and military equipment to Egypt, Iran and Trans-Jordan in accordance with the U. N. truce conditions for Palestine, a foreign office spokesman said tonight.

Britain also has barred all fit Jews of military age from moving to Palestine from Cyprus, where 24,000 Jews were interned at the time the British mandate over Palestine ended.

New Flood Builds Up In Oregon

BY WILLIAM PHIPPS

Portland, Ore., June 3 (AP)—The Columbia river system spawned a new flood in its headquarters today. Hundreds of miles downstream, winds whipping in from the Pacific flicked the crest of the old one over the tops of weakened dikes.

Warning of the new flood crashed like a body punch into tired residents of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia who have been battling two weeks against the river's worst rampage.

From the Canadian Rockies down the Columbia's torturous 1,000-mile course to the sea, flood-battered cities and farm communities rallied to face the second round—all except those who have not yet won the first one.

Leaky Dikes Watched

The original crest was causing the most trouble in the heavily barricaded area around Clatskanie on the Oregon shore and Skamokawa across the river in Washington. It was here—on the last 40 miles of its run into the Pacific—that wind-lashed waters rolled over the dikes when the incoming tide was highest.

The dikes still held. Thousands of regular Army troops, National Guardsmen and civilian volunteers worked steadily to keep building up the earthworks, stop the leakage and the crumbling.

Top Red Cross executives here said they believed "few, if any" of the war housing project's 18,700 residents were lost when a dike cracked and Columbia waters washed away the city that had been Oregon's second largest. Known dead so far, excluding Vanport, total 23.

Refugees Sheltered

Federal and state agencies have coordinated plans and their massive reconstructive weight has turned to the task of rehabilitation for some 59,000 persons and repairing damage running into untotaled millions—perhaps $100,000,000.

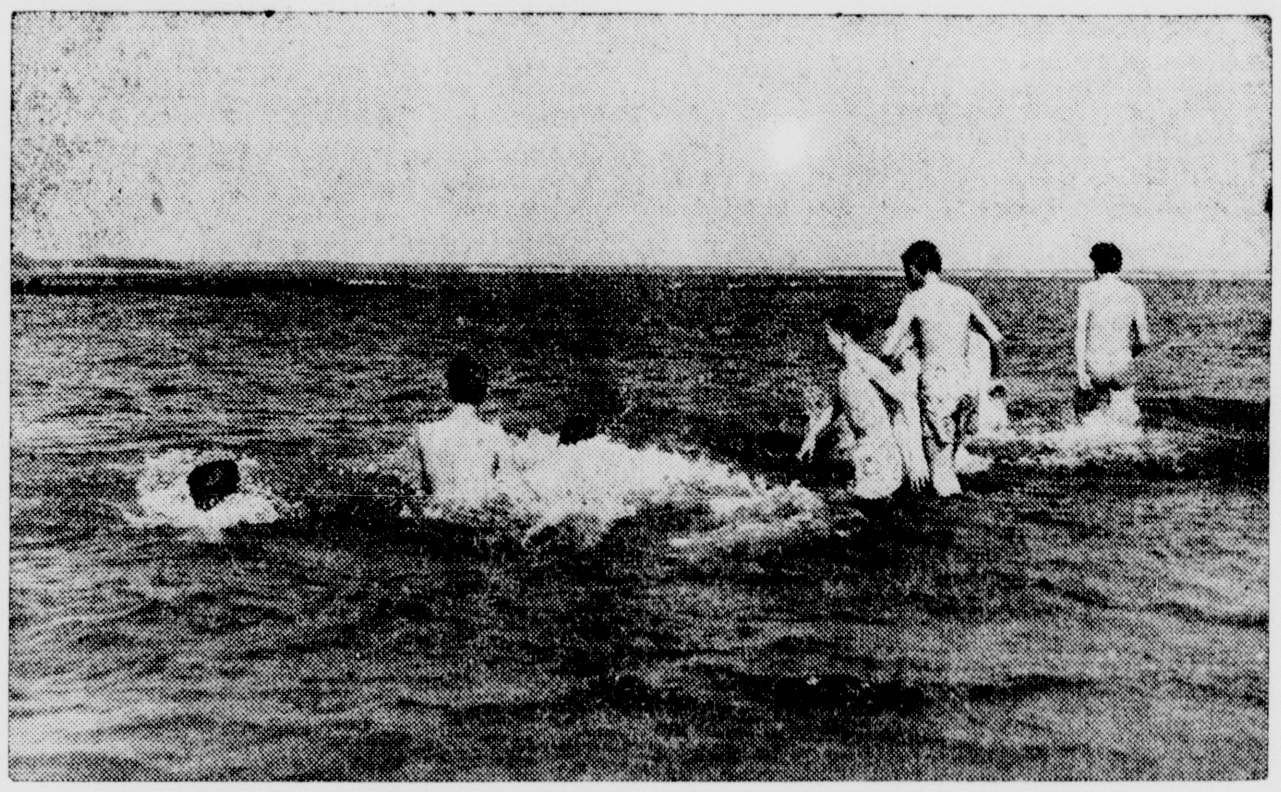
Snarled communications and disrupted transportation are slowly being restored. Refugees are being sheltered and fed. Contributions of clothing from the more fortunate are pouring in.

The time of greatest suffering is over in the Portland area—the hardest hit. Over for the moment—until the new crest mounting upriver plunges down through the rock walls of the mid-Columbia gorge.

How bad could the new one be? Even veteran U. S. river forecaster Elmer Fisher wouldn't make a prediction.

But if the new crest rises as high as the one now running out to sea, this was his grim warning:

"Portland and Vancouver, look out!"



IT'S SWIMMING TIME AGAIN—The arrival of the first spell of warm weather drove many youngsters to the Ludington park beach this week to seek relief. The above picture was taken on the south shore by the Daily Press photographer.

Forest Fires Rage Over 700 Acres; Hazard High

Forest fire fighters continued to be recruited today in central Upper Peninsula communities as relief crews for about 300 weary men who yesterday fought and brought under control two big fires that blackened over 700 acres within the past 24 hours.

Starting yesterday noon and raging through slash in the Round Lake area about 30 miles north of Nahma, one fire burned an estimated 350 acres, but spared several cottages and cabins in its path. Today it was hoped that the 127 men who fought the fire yesterday and last night might be relieved with another crew of 125 who are being recruited in Nahma, Munising and Escanaba.

The other fire, starting Tuesday burned about 300 acres southwest of Gwinn in Marquette county, and was one of eight fires to be reported in that county within the past 24 hours. One hundred and fifty men brought the blaze under control, with their efforts directed from a state conservation department plane.

Hazard Still High

Paul Wohlen, supervisor of Upper Michigan national forests, said that a special late weather forecast for this area indicated there would be no change in the present hazardous fire conditions. Winds are expected to continue from the west and southwest, becoming gusty this afternoon.

The fire north of Nahma in the Hiawatha National Forest was discovered shortly after noon yesterday by Waldo Ely of the Wetmore fire tower. The fire started at the southeast end of Pole Creek lake and raged northwest through hemlock, spruce and balsam slashing. The cause of the fire has not been determined. Crossing the Round Lake road about one mile from

Soviets Kidnap U.S. Official In Berlin

Deputy Seized While On Shopping Trip

Berlin, June 3. (AP)—The Russians today released Dr. Harry L. Franklin, American military government official whom they held for about sixteen hours.

Franklin asserted the Russians seized him "entirely without justification" while he was on a business errand in the center of town. He kept overnight in one of the Russians' local police headquarters and questioned by the Russians.

Franklin was arrested by a Soviet patrol as he left a photographer's shop.

He is deputy chief of the civil administration and political affairs branch for AMG in Berlin.

Anti-Red Elected President of Cuba; Takes Office Oct. 10

Havana, Cuba, June 3 (AP) — Senator Carlos Prio Socarras, 44, government candidate and anti-Communist, is officially declared president-elect of Cuba. He will take office Oct. 10.

Official declaration of his victory came last night from the superior electoral tribunal. Prio's election was conceded by his leading rival, Dr. Ricardo Nunez Portuondo.

The tribunal's tabulation of returns from 6,768 of 7,730 precincts in Tuesday's election gave:

Prio (authentic-Republican Alliance) 815,184; Nunez (Liberal-Democratic Coalition) 544,154; Senator Eduardo Chibas (Peoples Party) 293,152; Senator Juan Marinello (Communist) 129,671.

Dying Winds Help Curb Forest Fires

Carelessness Blamed For New Blazes Near Soo

Toronto, Ont., June 3 (AP)—Winds died down today, slowing slightly the spread of some of the biggest forest fires in the history of the Ontario northland.

A few thundershowers were reported over the 50,000,000 acres of burning or threatened timber land, but fire fighters said only a soaking rain would quench the blazes. The latest forecast was for "hot aind dry" weather, with the temperature up to 90.

T. E. Mackey of the Ontario lands department said the situation seemed slightly better and that major fires are not moving as fiercely as during the last two days. High winds which sent fires racing through 117,000 acres of timber in the Mississagi and Chapleau districts were diminishing.

Three new fires were reported in the Sault Ste. Marie district. Carelessness was blamed.

In the Port Arthur area, fires gained at Halen lake, where 12,000 acres of cut over timberland burned. A tract of 5,000 acres of pulpwood was ablaze on the west side of Lake Nipigon. Fire destroyed a saw mill and camp of the Fellman Timber Co. In Godfrey township in the Timmins area, where 4,000 acres were destroyed. A 600-acre blaze in Grenfell township in the Kirkland lake area was reported spreading.

Bodies of 2 Airmen Who Crashed May 15 Found in Lake Erie

Detroit, June 3 (AP)—The Grosse Ile Naval air base reported today the bodies of two missing fliers have been recovered from Lake Erie.

Both fliers presumably were victims of a dive bomber crash May 15.

The air base said one body was identified as that of Robert D. Gute, 24, of Owosso, Mich., aviation machinist's mate. He was the son of Mrs. Buelah Gute, Box 217, Owosso.

Gute, an enlisted man, was flying with Ensign Frank M. Schaffer, 25, of (1765 Midland) Saginaw, Mich., on a routine flight. Their dive bomber crashed near Pelee Island.

Ousted AFL Leader John Reid To Seek Seat in Congress

Lansing, June 3 (AP)—John Reid, of East Lansing, who was ousted recently after 13 years as secretary of the Michigan Federation of Labor, today formally announced his candidacy on the Democratic ticket for congress from the sixth (Ingham-Livingston-Genesee) district.

Reid said he had been promised the support of both the AFL and CIO unions in the district. He said he was out to beat Rep. W. W. Blackney, Republican, of Flint.

Planes From U. S. Ready to Back Up Holy Land Truce

Washington, June 3 (AP) — The United States has 21 Army, Navy and Air Force officers on notice to be ready to fly to Palestine and help implement a truce in Jewish-Arab warfare.

The officers presumably would serve in carrying word of the truce to units of the Jewish and Arab fighting forces that are removed from direct contact with their responsible commands.

Newfoundland Votes On Joining Canada

St. John's, Nfld., June 3 (AP) — Residents of this rocky island Colony, Britain's oldest, vote today to decide Newfoundland's future.

After a hot political campaign which at times reached the intensity of a civil war of words, the voters are called upon to make a choice among three alternatives:

1. Shall Newfoundland join Canada as that dominion's tenth province?

2. Shall it return to independent status, with responsible government, such as it had before 1934?

3. Shall it remain as is, with a commission form of government under a governor appointed by the British crown?

Still another proposal — economic union with the United States—was injected into the campaign, but it is not on the ballot.

Approximately 170,000 of Newfoundland's 320,000 inhabitants are expected to cast ballots. Joseph Smallwood, leader of the party urging union with Canada, predicted victory with 70 percent of the total vote. Chesley Grosbie, a campaigner for independence, and Peter Cashin, spokesman for the "as is" group, claimed victory just as flatly.

Newfoundland, which sits at the entrance to the St. Lawrence river, reverted to colonial status, from independence, in 1934 when it found itself unable to make ends meet financially. The crown-appointed governor and commission sat as a sort of bankruptcy administration. The island had a debt of nearly $100,000,000.

War, and the establishment of the big American bases at St. John's, Argentia and Stephenville, helped restore prosperity. By prearrangement, Britain then agreed to the vote on the future.

Undersheriff Quits In Gambling Expose

Crackdown Nets 27 Men In Saginaw District

Saginaw, Mich., June 3 (AP)—A Saginaw county undersheriff resigned yesterday a few hours after he and 26 other men were indicted by a one-man grand jury in a widespread crackdown on reported gambling activities.

Undersheriff Ellis F. Johnson said in a brief letter to Sheriff William A. Monroe, "x x x I offer no alibi. I will accept any penalty imposed.

Johnson's action came a few minutes before he was taken before the grand jury, Circuit Court Judge James E. O'Neill for preliminary examination.

He waived examination and was released in $1,000 bond pending a trial.

Several other defendants in the far-flung so-called gambling ring were also arraigned yesterday.

Judge O'Neill's surprisingly broad indictments named residents of five Michigan cities and a detail of state troopers was kept busy serving warrants on the various suspects.

The grand jury accused the group of "wilfully, deceitfully and wickedly" conspiring to operate illegal handbooks on horse racing for the better part of six years.

British Jet Plane Sales To Russia Branded Mistake

Washington, June 3 (AP)—"The British made a mistake" in selling jet plane equipment to Russia," Assistant Secretary of Commerce David K. E. Bruce told the House Appropriations committee.

In foreign aid testimony made public today, Bruce commented:

"I have a very strong personal impression that the British made a mistake in selling (jet equipment) to Russia." But he said he did not know whether the jet apparatus "was significant or not".

Cut In Foreign Aid Programs Outlined

House Committee Urges 25 Percent Slash

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, June 3 (AP)—A 25 percent cut in funds for the Marshall plan and other foreign aid programs was urged today by the House appropriations committee.

The committee sent to the House floor for probably hot debate tomorrow a $5,980,710,228 global assistance measure.

This is a reduction of only $553,000,000 or 7.5 per cent, in the amount Congress itself authorized and President Truman asked.

But the effect is a one-quarter slash for this reason: The authorization law provided that the money could be spent during 12 months. But the committee said the cash it is willing to put up must be stretched out over 15 month.

Slightly more than $5,000,000,000 of the total asked had been budgeted for use during the 12 months ending next April 3, or at the rate of $417,000,000 per month.

The committee trimmed that total to $4,663,000,000 for 15 months, a spending rate of $311,000,000 monthly.

Other funds in the bill were cut $150,000,000 with the money to be spent during a 12-month period as originally planned.

Burning Brush Pile Picked for Suicide

Dangers To America Are Cited By Judge Jackson

The simple virtues of honesty, loyalty and clean living; of not spending more than you make, and not expecting more than you earn, are the answers to many of the present-day dangers in our current American life, according to Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone.

Speaking yesterday noon to honor students of Escanaba Senior high school and St. Joseph's high school and their parents, who were luncheon guests of the Escanaba Rotary club at the Delta hotel, Judge Jackson called for an upholding of the American principles of right living rather than "a return to the horse and buggy days."

Carl Nelson, Rotary club president, presided at the meeting. John Lemmer introduced the St. Joseph's high school honor graduates and their parents, and the presentation of the Escanaba Senior high school honor students was made by Edward Edick, principal.

Miss Barbara Duchaine and James Moran, recipients of the Rotary club's watch awards, expressed their appreciation to the club. Harold Lindsay, past Rotary district governor, introduced Judge Jackson.

The speaker cited the turmoil of the world and the dangers of war, and declared that the peoples of some European countries are losing possibility of representative government because they are unprepared for self-rule. This was reason Germany turned to dictatorship, a path that Russia and some South American countries have followed, and the reason for England's experiment in socialism.

"The mission of the United States is one of leadership and example," Judge Jackson declared.

The United States has a mission at home as well as abroad," he continued, and pointed out that older civilizations fell because of internal decay.

Judge Jackson said this country must control inflation, must produce more than it uses or gives away, and must reduce its national debt. "We cannot keep on spending more than we earn because sooner or later it will lead to dictatorship."

Industry and labor are engaged in a battle, the first to raise prices, the second to raise wages, he said. "In my opinion the door should have been locked on prices and wages at the end of the war and both frozen until production had recovered." Free enterprise is the secret of America's success, he continued, and declared that savings, both by the individual and by industry, should make it possible to stop today's spiral of inflation.

The American people, with more leisure than they have ever had in the past, should use that time to the betterment of themselves and their communities, Judge Jackson said. Unwise use of leisure and "cheap" pastimes mean lower standards, divorces, neglected children, he continued. It also is responsible for much of the absenteeism in industry.

Judge Jackson rapped the "cheap" movie and radio programs with their accent on crime and sex, and said that higher personal standards and tastes would bring an increase in the production of better entertainment programs.

His advice to the youth of America was as follows: Be honest, for that is the easiest way to live; be thoughtful of others; be loyal and patriotic to your country, state and community; be clean in body and mind to enjoy health and happiness; and be religious and exemplify religion in daily life.

BATHING BEACH OPENS JUNE 20

Wading Area Is Readied At Ludington Park

The municipal bathing beach on the north shore of Sand Point will be officially opened on Sunday, June 20, George Grenholm, city recreational director, has announced. In the event that warm weather continues and the water temperature at the beach rises rapidly, the beach will be opened prior to June 20. Grenholm reported that the water temperature this morning was 54 degrees, too cool for pleasant bathing.

When the beach is officially opened, the life raft and other facilities will be in place at the beach and lifeguards will be on duty. There will be no guards at the beach, however, until the official opening and bathers are advised that if they swim at the beach prior to that time, they will do so at their own risk.

A wading area for little tots is being established at Ludington Park, adjacent to the old bath house and it probably will be ready for use by Thursday of next week, Grenholm reported. The wading area will have about 14 inches of water and mothers are advised to remain with their children while the kiddies are wading there. The water temperature in the wading area will be considerable warmer than in the bay. A similar wading area proved very popular last season. The area is being enlarged this year and play facilities will be installed.

"Rented the first day" said Smith.

GIRL DROWNS AT NEWBERRY

Leona Mooney, 13, Loses Life In Maki Lake

Newberry, Mich.—Leona Mooney, 13 year old daughter of James Mooney, drowned at Maki lake south of Twin Lakes at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday.

She had been playing about 35 yards from shore with a group of girls. When her companions started for shore, she began calling for help but they were unable to save her. She was considered an able swimmer.

Artificial respiration was tried when the body was recovered.

The Mooney family lives at West Victory Way, Newberry. The father operates a repair shop on Harrie street.

It's Tulip Time — For Vandals

The beauty of blooming tulips in city flower beds at Escanaba's municipal dock last night attracted the attention of vandals who picked and trampled dozens of the blooms, it was reported today by Robert Clayton, superintendent of parks and forestry.

Passersby have admired the tulips since they began blooming about a week ago, and an occasional flower has been picked, Clayton said. This was considered admirable restraint. Last night, however, one of the tulip beds was raided, the flowers picked, tossed aside and trampled.

"There might have been some excuse if they had been picked by persons who wanted to enjoy them," said Clayton.

U. P. National Guard Gets 50 More Vehicles

Lansing, June 3 (AP)—A convoy of 50 military vehicles today was en route to the Upper Peninsula to bolster the Michigan National Guard equipment in the 107th Engineer Battalion.

The adjutant general's office said warrant officer Edward R. Soderberg of Marquette and 35 enlisted men were taking the vehicles north from Kellogg field. They will be distributed among battalion units at Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba, and Calumet.

The equipment includes new prime movers, dump trucks, trailers, and cargo and troop carriers.

The Upper Peninsula contingent handling the convoy was flown to Kellogg field yesterday from the north by C-47 planes of the 107th bomb squadron.

Vehicles being brought to Company C of Escanaba, Delta county unit of the Upper Michigan battalion, are a four-ton dump truck, three two and one-half ton dump trucks, one six-ton truck and a three-quarter ton weapons carrier.

The Delta county contingent consists of Staff Sergeant LeRoy Erickson, Sgt. Clair D. Cook, Tec 5 Lyle E. Godfrey, Tec 5 Gordon J. Hermes, Tec 5 Peter H. Micheau, Pfc. Melvin I. Sebeck, Pvt. Ernest L. Johnson and Pvt. Denham H. Lord, jr.

Folk Dances and Games Night Will Be Held on Friday

A program of square dances, folk dances and games, will be held at the city recreation building starting at 8 p. m. Friday conducted by Mrs. Anne Livingstone of the National Recreation association, who is in Escanaba under sponsorship of the city recreation department and the Delta County Youth Guidance committee.

The public is invited to attend, and both young and older people are expected to find the program entertaining. The program is the first of a series to be conducted at the recreation center by Miss Livingstone this summer.

There will be no youth dance at the recreation center on Friday night, and the next regularly scheduled dance for young people will be on Tuesday night.

Three Mighty Important Ideas

Maybe you read, where a great encyclopedia has sorted all basic ideas into a few select groups. Under the letter "T" they have:

Temperance - Truth - Tyranny.

Sounds like a funny combination. And to philosophize a little, notice that Truth is in the center—between Tyranny and Temperance.

Now and then you hear folks criticize temperate people who enjoy a moderate glass of beer . . . who talk about "two beers" getting some one into trouble, and claim: "There ought to be a law!"

Then Truth steps in between, and points out that two beers never got anybody into trouble—and that somebody's trying to distort the facts. No, there shouldn't be a law —there should be Truth.

From where I sit, those ideas are arranged just right. Temperance on one side, Tyranny on the other—and Truth in the middle—seeing that Tyranny never encroaches upon Temperance.

Equality In Law

THE University of Minnesota announced petitioned in federal court for an injunction to compel John L. Lewis to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers association in an effort to draft a contract between the coal miners union and the association. Lewis has replied that he is not required to bargain with the association which he branded as "hostile and arbitrary."

The purpose of the national labor relations law, the original Wagner act and its successor, the Taft-Hartley act, is to establish fair labor practices under which employes and employers can get together in a joint effort to settle labor disputes. The law requires both parties to engage in collective bargaining to that end.

Labor unions have numerously charged employers with failure to bargain collectively and have brought their charges before the NLRB. When the evidence showed that the employers were evading the principles of the act, the employers were compelled by governmental pressures to bargain with the duly certified union representatives. This is, of course, as it should be if the law is to serve its useful purpose.

Collective bargaining, however, must be two-sided. In the case of John L. Lewis vs. the Southern Coal Producers association, it is the union representative who refuses to bargain. The same law that protects the workers must also protect the employer. If the Southern Coal Producers association is "hostile and arbitrary" as Lewis contends, the evidence shows that Lewis is even more "hostile and arbitrary," so much so, in fact, that the NLRB is required to go into federal court to compel the labor boss to do what the labor relations act explicitly says he must do for the purpose of labor tranquility.

It is difficult to understand why Lewis should believe that he is immune to the provisions of the labor law but that employers are not.

Iron From Taconite

THE University of Minnesota announced recently that its mines experiment station had succeeded in making the first finished pig iron from taconite.

On the Minnesota iron range this announcement is hailed as big news. It dispels the gloom that has been caused by the pessimistic predictions that the rich Mesabi range's days are numbered.

True enough, the Mesabi's high grade iron ore deposits are running low, but there remain billions and billions of tons of taconite.

What is taconite? It is referred to as the "mother rock" from which the entire Lake Superior district's iron deposits originated. It looks like plain rock, but it contains about 30 per cent iron particles scattered through it

A writer in the Minneapolis Star compares the vast taconite bed to a huge flat cake. The open pit mines now being worked are like little raisins in this tremendous cake. It is easier to pick the raisins out first, because they are easily available.

With ordinary open pit iron ore, you mine a ton and ship a ton. With taconite, however, three tons of the rock must be mined to manufacture one ton of ore. The process of converting three tons of taconite rock into a ton of iron ore is called beneficiation.

The University of Minnesota has made a great contribution to the mining industry and to the economic future of the nation. Utilization of low grade ores is no longer in the talk stage. The mining companies, themselves, are serious about it, and have established their own research laboratories at Negaunee, Duluth and elsewhere to develop economical methods for converting low grade ores into iron and steel.

British Selfish Justice

THE British government seems to have washed its hands not only of the Palestine mandate but also of its responsibilities as one of the leading members of the United Nations. The UN's handling of the Holy Land crisis, first hampered by an awkward American policy, now suffers from a calculated British policy of obstruction.

In the face of all the evidence, Britain refuses to admit that the Palestine war is a threat to peace. Her delegation in the Security Council has blocked an American resolution which would recognize that threat.

Meanwhile the Arab belligerents have continued to receive British arms. Egyptian flyers in British planes have dropped British bombs on Israeli cities. The British government disclaims all responsibility for the actions of King Abdullah's Arab Legion unless the Council finds Abdullah guilty of aggression. And it thwarts all Council attempts to take such action. Yet this best fighting outfit of the Arab armies is still subsidized by Britain to the tune of $8,000,000 a year, and it is commanded by British officers.

The United Kingdom is at least morally bound by the General Assembly's decision on partition, even though it abstained from voting on the question. But its present actions are not even neutral, let alone sympathetic to UN policy.

At the same time the British press and public seem to be largely anti-American as well as pro-Arab. Mr. Truman's recognition of Israel has come in for sharp criticism. Certainly the American position has been inconsistent, to say the least. But the recognition of Israel is defensible. It makes some amends for this government's desertion of its early and active support of partition. It also accepts an accomplished fact.

The present British position is even less excusable than the stand that Britain took when Mussolini invaded Ethiopia. For today's policy is one of open support of the aggressor rather than the hesitant inaction toward the Fascist invader. And this support of the Arabs is particularly cold-blooded when the service of Jews in the British army is contrasted with the hostility and open pro-Hitlerism that some of the Arab leaders displayed in World War II.

Williams Is Candidate

G. MENNEN WILLIAMS, Detroit attorney, has formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of Michigan. It has been rumored for some time that Williams, wealthy Detroit socialite, would become a candidate for governor. When he resigned recently as a member of the liquor control commission, it was obvious that he did so as a prelude to his gubernatorial campaign.

Williams announced his candidacy with a satirical show of contempt for Gov. Kim Sigler, whom he hopes to unseat. Of course, before Williams can become a direct opponent for Sigler, he must first win the Democratic nomination. And if and when he does capture the Democratic nomination, Williams will be faced with the unhappy prospect of trying to unseat a Republican governor in a Republican state at a time when the political swing to Republicanism promises to be the greatest in many years.

Aside from the inexperience of the 37-year-old Detroit heir to a soap fortune, there are numerous other factors that would indicate that G. Mennen Williams is unlikely to be the people's choice for governor of Michigan come January 1949.

Still Plowing Under

HENRY WALLACE told an Oregon audience that people living on sub-marginal land should be prevented by the government from having children. Later, at his "horrified" assistant's suggestion, he repented and retracted the remark.

Maybe Mr. Wallace was thinking back to his days as Secretary of Agriculture, and confused the little children with the famous little pigs.

Other Editorial Comments

NEED FOR SPECIAL PROTECTION
(Jackson Citizen-Patriot)

Another report has been made to the police of building materials stolen from a house under construction.

The thieves also damaged parts of the house under construction. This is not unusual in Jackson police annals. Reports of materials thefts from the sites of new buildings are all too common.

Of course, the scarcity and high value make building materials extra attractive to those who steal. It would be too expensive to expect private owners to provide their own watchman all the time the workers are not on the job.

But any one who builds a home in these days of housing shortages and high prices is entitled to special consideration. It might be a good idea to have police in scout cars keep an eye on new construction to discourage the stealing which has been all too common in Jackson.

Take My Word For It . . Frank Colby

WORDS LIKE "FINGER"

Today's column is about words like finger, linger, singer, bringer, and other familiar words which end in -nger. Many readers have asked me why it is that some speakers pronounce singer, bringer, ringer, etc., with a hard "g" sound, as, "sing-ger, bring-ger, ring-ger."

One reader sends a little sketch in illustration of this hard "g" error:

" 'Hello, operator. Long-gaker 3-4489, please. Yes, that's the Sing-ger Company, in Freeport, Long-guyland. Busy? O. K., I'll try later.' Then she hung-gup."

The hard "g" in such words is heard chiefly in the speech of German Americans and Jewish Americans, and since there are millions of both among our citizens, today's article is of prime importance in explaining why some -nger words are correct with the hard "g" and others are not.

Let us start by observing that the "g" should never be heard in such one-syllable words as hang, slang, sing, bring, ring, song, hung, rung, tongue. Such words end with the nasal "ng" sound. Never say "hang-guh, sing-guh, song-guh."

Now, when -er is added to the one-syllable -ng words, the "ng" remains nasal and the "g" is never hard. "Not hang-ger, sing-ger, ring-ger." Correct: HANG-er, SING,er, RING-er, etc.

Also, do not make the "g" hard when -ing is added. Not "hang-ging, sing-ging, ring-ging," but HANG-ing, SING-ing, RING-ing.

(Exception. Long, strong, and young must not end with a hard "g." But when -er is added the "g" takes the hard sound, as: LONG-ger, STRONG-ger, YOUNG-ger).

Now note carefully that words like anger, finger, linger, hunger, are not formed by adding -er to one-syllable words; anger, for example, is not formed from "ang" plus "er," for there is no such word as "ang."

Therefore, the hard "g" is correct in anger (ANG-ger), finger (FING-ger), linger (LING-ger), hunger (HUNG-ger), and other similar words.

Above all, do not carry the erroneous hard "g" sound over to the following word, as "long-guyland" for Long Island, "sing-ging guh song gubout love," for singing a song about love.

Do you understand the role the parts of speech play in the English language? Doing so will help you speak and write intelligently. Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-14, explains the parts of speech.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—On every political front, in Congress and out, the issue finally gets down to how power is to be exercised under the American form of government. We are facing the fact that, with responsibility divided between the states and the federal government, there are gaping holes in which no authority can function.

Childs

The absence of any government—anarchy —may be in theory a highly desirable condition.

What is more, change will come in the yeasty time in which we are living. It will come through the processes of democracy, or it will come in ways that can only be harmful and destructive to what we cherish most.

These thoughts are stirred by an editorial in the Mobile, Ala., Press. The editorial agrees that there is a threat to freedom in recent proposals to curb information and thought. True, says the editorial, this is the "shadow of the police state."

FEPC BILL CRITICIZED

But it goes on to say that President Truman's civil-rights program is likewise the shadow of a coercive state. The language used is strong:

"One particularly alarming measure endorsed by the president is the FEPC bill. That shadow of the police state grows even darker when one studies carefully this measure, which would create a dictatorial agency that could destroy the constitutional rights of citizens. This bureaucratic agency could tell an employer whom he could hire or not hire. It could dictate to unions as to membership, forcing them to admit persons they did not want.

"The FEPC measure would set up an army of spies traveling throughout the United States. Operatives of this Gestapo-like agency would have the power to act as complainant, prosecutor, judge and jury. The FEPC is a step toward the destruction of free enterprise."

Political demagogy and expediency to one side, here is the root of the southern revolt against the Truman proposals. It is in the profound fear of coercion—of having an alien way of life imposed by force which would shatter a pattern cherished with blood and tears. This feeling is deep and real and it cannot be brushed aside as mere rhetoric. If any proof were needed, it is in the reaction of southern liberals such as Hodding Carter of Greenville, Miss., who have considered themselves New Dealers. They cannot accept the imposition of the civil rights program by the federal government.

Visiting the south even briefly, you realize that southerners are acutely aware of what the rest of the country may be thinking. They want to believe that their way of life is good, is workable and is capable of change. What is more, they want the visitor to believe it. They tell him of changes—of how Negro members of northern football teams came to the south and played with their teams against the all-white teams of the south.

To the northerner, who brings his own projudices with him, these changes are likely to seem very small gains indeed. He may argue that, if progress in granting equal opportunity is to be so slow, then the rest of the country will begin to believe the president's program may be necessary.

WEAKNESS IN SOUTH'S STAND

Here, in my opinion, is the weakness of the south's position. Granted that their problem is of a kind and a magnitude which the northerner cannot comprehend. Granted that their fear of coercion and the police state comes out of a belief in freedom and in the rights of the individual that is perhaps deeper than in any other part of the country.

Yet the fact remains that the south has not used the powers of the states to channel the process of change. Consider what might have been the reaction to the president's proposals. Instead of political conventions devoted to ways and means of resisting Mr. Truman personally, the south might have held a convention to study how opportunity might be equalized within the framework of states' rights and the pattern of southern conduct. Such a meeting would have made a deep impression on the country.

Two facts tend to becloud the passionate belief of the honest southerner in freedom and in the rights of the separate states and the individual man. One is that some southern interests seem determined to keep a lower wage differential based mainly on the Negro for economic gain.

The other and more damaging fact is that so many southern representatives in Congress seem always ready to vote for the measures that repress and coerce those whom they do not like. You cannot claim rights and freedoms for yourself that you constantly seek to deny to others.

Come Back When You're Washed Up, Joe!

KILL-JOY —The number of outboard motor and inboard motor boats is increasing rapidly in this area. If you don't have a motor of your own you can rent one.

What most persons overlook is that as soon as a motor is attached to a boat it becomes a motor boat under the terms of the law, and is subject to the same rules and regulations as a boat with an inboard motor. The U. S. Coast Guard, whose duty it is to enforce such regulations, points out that its warnings against recklessness on the water is not for the purpose of being a "kill-joy."

Dunathan

Better to be a kill-joy, however, than to permit reckless use of motorboats to the extent that many hapless—and helpless—persons will be killed.

* * *

THE SHOW OFF—It has been our observation that a few boaters are unable to distinguish between safety and carelessness, and between the nearness of death and their own selfish desire to show off.

Over the Memorial Day weekend, when the shores of Little and Big Bay de Noc were lined with small boats, we saw many exhibitions of poor seamanship.

We saw show-offs standing in boats so heavily laden that a slight tip would have capsized them; running motorboats so recklessly that high waves were splashed against other craft; and far out in the bay were boats with young children aboard—and not one life preserver in the crowd.

* * *

GRIM HUMOR—We overheard one woman complaining to her husband that she was afraid they might tip in their tiny boat, to which was attached an out-size motor.

"If you don't like it you can get out and walk," said that considerate devil. "The ground is only 20 feet away—straight down."

He swooped the boat around in a circle until she was wet and screaming in panic.

* * *

A LITTLE FUN—In directing attention to the need for motorboating caution, the headquarters office of the Ninth District at Cleveland reports some "typical wilful violators" of the law.

There is for example the fellow who spots some people in a rowboat and thinks it would be great sport to "scare the daylights" out of them. He turns on full throttle and roars right at them—veering at the last minute to leave them wet with spray. In cases of this kind the expected does happen occasionally. A rowboat was cut in two and three persons drowned.

Another motorboat operator took a short-cut through a swimming beach area. Not going too fast, you understand. Just going where he shouldn't, and not watching too closely. There was a scream, and the boat operator turned back to help the youth he had injured. The boat propeller had so badly mangled the swimmer's leg that it had to be amputated.

And there are always motorboat owners who like to speed through narrow channels, tossing other boats at their moorings and against docks. It is as much against the law to wilfully damage property as it is to endanger life.

* * *

PENALTY—Section 14 of the Motorboat Act of 1940 provides a fine of not more than $2,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, for reckless or negligent operation of any motorboats.

* * *

COMMON SENSE — Persons who know the dangers of boating are those least likely to be careless around the water. The way some amateurs act when they are on the water, you would think they think they could walk on the stuff.

A little use of common sense will keep a cautious person out of a boat and off the water during a storm, or when a storm threatens. Yet operators of boat liveries tell us that customers will be downright insulting if the operator tells them it is too rough to take a boat out.

And when some amateurs get in a motorboat they turn her on full throttle and go scooting around with as much sense of direction as a water bug. If it's calm they make waves; if there are waves they try to tip the boat over in them.

* * *

MEN AND BOYS—In Michigan last year 307 persons drowned in lakes and rivers. Two-thirds of the drownings occurred during the summer vacation months—June, July and August. The larger share of the drownings were not at swimming beaches. Many of them were the result of boating accidents.

Nine out of ten of the 307 who drowned in Michigan last year were men and boys. Only 39 of the total were women and girls.

The reckless swimmers, the careless boaters are in the majority men and boys. Why this should be so we are not certain, although it can probably be traced to male vanity and the urge to show off for the edification of onlookers.

Before the summer is over there will be a couple hundred persons drown in Michigan. Water hazards are sufficient without courting disaster through recklessness. So be careful, play safe and stay alive.

New York, (AP)—More gold diggers have struck it rich in Manhattan than all the mining prospectors in the fabulous west.

But there is also a quiet and unglamorous quest for gold that goes on here constantly—and nets above $500,000 a year.

These prosaic treasure seekers are the men who have the job of recovering the fragmentary particles of gold lost by 500 New York City firms in the manufacture of precious metal jewelry.

There is an old saying that gold is where you find it. This is particularly true of these indoor prospectors. They have found it in the air, in wash water, and by putting a vacuum cleaner to the hair of women jewelry workers.

These minute specks of gold also lodge in the clothing of workmen, in shoes, tools, work benches chairs and floor cracks. It's worth the cost of the treasure hunt to regain them. They add up to big money.

Sweepings Burned

"We recover about $50,000 annually in gold from such sources," said W. Waters Schwab, president of J. R. Wood and Sons, the nation's largest wedding ring manufacturing firm.

The largest amount is probably recovered simply by burning floor sweepings and refining the bits of gold that have fallen from work benches.

Many firms now also supply aprons to their expert workmen and require them to be worn. The company launders the aprons itself. The water goes through settling tanks as does the water from special basins in which the workmen must also wash their hands each night before leaving the plant.

This prevents the waste of gold which accidentally stuck to the workmen's clothing and hands.

Fortune In Air

Jewelry manufacturers long suspected their workrooms had 14-karat air. Introduction of a special type filter to trap microscopic particles of gold floating in the air confirmed this to an amazing degree.

"In a single department where gold is worked as much as $10,000 can be salvaged in a single year." Schwab said.

How to get back the tiny gold waste that stuck to the shoes of workmen? There wasn't enough to make it worth while burning everybody's shoes each night. And yet it didn't seem quite cricket to suggest they work bare-footed.

The problem was solved by putting down a floor covering softer than leather shoes. Then the gold stuck to the floor instead of becoming imbedded in the workers' shoes and carried out of the building. When the floor covering becomes worn, it is taken up and burned to salvage the yellow metal.

Hair Kept Covered

For a time a number of plants recovered considerable gold dust —and perhaps dandruff, too—by vacuuming the hair of women employes.

"The ladies stood on their dignity and objected." Schwab laughed. "They insisted they wash their own hair or be taken to a first class beauty parlor—free."

The only way to get any gold dust out of these jewelry plants now is to go into the workroom take five quick deep breaths—and run for an exit. Then you send your lungs to a laundry and split with them any gold they find. What can you lose?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—In the minds of most people, the thorny problem of John L. Lewis is far removed from the problem of American education. Yet, through no fault of his, Lewis got into the middle of the battle over federal aid to education. In fact, he nearly did the teachers a good turn.

Pearson

Here is the inside story of what happened. The chief, though secret, opponents of the federal-aid-to-education bill are Speaker Joe Martin and G. O. P. leader Charles Halleck of Indiana. They have decided that this $300,000,000 grant to the nation's schools is not going to pass this session, even though it has already passed the Senate and with the backing of such Republican leaders as Senator Taft.

However, since it isn't politically popular to oppose education, especially with the nation's schools in their present condition, Speaker Martin and Halleck have passed the buck to Congressman Fred Hartley of New Jersey, chairman of the education and labor committee.

Hartley isn't running for re-election, while Martin has presidential ambitions, and, secretly, so has Charlie Halleck. Thus it has been more convenient to let Hartley take the rap for blocking education, and it was announced that he was holding up the Senate bill in his committee.

This worked well until John L. Lewis went on a coal-strike rampage recently, causing Hartley to introduce a bill pinning Lewis's ears back. Simultaneously Speaker Martin stepped in pulled some fast footwork with Lewis, and helped to settle the stroke.

This infuriated Hartley. There is no man in public life whom he admires less than John L. Lewis and, as a result of Speaker Martin's intervention, Hartley's anti-Lewis law became unnecessary.

So, out of spite, Hartley threatened to report the aid-to-education bill out of his education committee. This, he figured, was a good way of getting even with Martin.

In the end, the speaker persuaded Hartley he had been working too hard, told him to take a six-week vacation. He did.

Hartley has now come back, meekly willing to cooperate with Republican leaders in playing politics with the nation's schools. Unless the teachers find some real political dynamite, the education bill will not be passed at this session.

Note—Meanwhile literacy in the U. S. A. has sunk to the same point as in Russia. Proportionately, far more Japanese can read and write than can Americans.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana, brother of Huey, has appointed S. L. Digby as conservation commissioner. It's significant that Mr. Digby is attorney for Oilman-Senator William Feazel who contributed thousands of dollars to Governor Long's election. And in his new job Digby could hand out some lush favors. . . Nebraska Democrats are hopping mad at President Truman for assigning his old pal, insurance executive Ed McKim, to handle the presidential visit in Nebraska next week. McKim, who won Truman more enemies than friends while in Washington, now is doing the same thing among Nebraska Democrats. . . For a fascinating and first-hand account of the war's greatest morale-builder and military aid — radio — read "Star Spangled Radio" by Edward M. Kirby and Jack W. Harris, who lived the great story they wrote. . . Sen. Joe McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, is writing a handbook on the ABC's of building a house. He will try to clear up the mysteries of government red tape and outline in simple steps how to proceed. He hopes to be able to publish the book for 79 cents a copy, and sell it to the public at cost. . . The Senate small business committee was quick to call Paul Hoffmann to explain why European recovery contracts are going to big business. It's a repetition of what happened with Army-Navy contracts during the recent hostilities.

SALESMEN LOSE BENEFITS

The House ways and means committee really is ringing the cash register for upper-bracket taxpayers. Not content with reducing gift and inheritance taxes, the committee now is going to the rescue of corporations in a bill revising social security taxes.

Highlight of the bill, prepared by G. O. P. Representative Dan Reed of New York, is a definition of "employee" based on the 18th century British "master - servant" principle. Reed defines an employee as "one over whom an employer exercises such control as to make him an employee at common law."

Anyone outside this category cannot go on social security rolls. This automatically excludes salesmen and other semi - independent job-holders who work on commissions. More important, it relieves corporations employing them, such as insurance companies, of the burden of social security taxes.

To offset this big loophole, the Reed bill adds two minor employee groups to the rolls—members of charitable and other non-profit organizations and employees of state, local and county governments. However, such employees can be enrolled only on a voluntary basis.

Approximately 20,000,000 workers now are barred from social security benefits. An advisory council of experts headed by ex-Secretary of State Edward Stettinius recently recommended coverage for many of these ineligibles, including farm workers, domestic servants, railroad workers and others.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce also has gone on record for liberal revisions of the law and the Republican party itself pledged social security improvements in its 1944 platform. However, Congressman Reed and his G. O. P. colleagues apparently consider this pledge "campaign oratory."

Liquor Hearings Conducted Today

Hearings were held today in Escanaba by Kenneth Daniels, Lansing, hearing examiner for the liquor control commission, in three of five scheduled cases. Two were postponed for hearing at a future date.

Daniels was assisted by James O'Rourke, attorney for the state, at the hearings held in the court house. Disposition of the cases will be made by the liquor commission following a study of the testimony.

The American Legion club of Gladstone, charged with serving or selling to a minor on March 28, was represented at the hearing by some of its officials.

The Menominee & Marinette Brewing company, charged with selling two eighths kegs of beer to a minor on Feb. 20, presented defense testimony. Under a brewery license the retail sale of beer by the case or keg is permitted.

Paul Kakovich of Rockland, Ontonagon county, was charged with three violations of his tavern license on April 12, including possession, sale and consumption of spirits on the tavern premises.

Cases postponed were those of Leonard J. Moreau, 890 Stephenson avenue, Escanaba, charged with selling or serving a minor; and Charles F. Sundstrom, Michigamme, charged with selling to a minor. Sundstrom failed to appear for the hearing.

Forest Fires Blacken 700 Acres In U. P.

Round Lake, the fire burned fiercely until late last night when it was brought under control.

Headquarters for the fire fighters has been established at Marble Lodge on Round Lake. From there the force of 127 men, four pumpers, five bulldozers, and two tractors with plows were directed in the work of bringing the fire under control.

Patroling to check spot fires, and to keep the main fire under control, is being continued. The only danger at present is that burning brands may start new fires outside the area under control.

No Buildings Burned

From the Bay de Noquet company office in Nahma today it was reported that no company buildings have been burned in the fire. Old Camp 27 near Pole Lake has long been abandoned, and the company's only operating lumber camp is near Grand Marais.

The Bay de Noquet company sawmill at Nahma was closed today as all available manpower was dispatched to the scene of the fire. One hundred and two men were transported to the fire this morning by school bus.

The forest service and Bay de Noquet company spokesmen said they knew of no buildings destroyed by the fire. The Peter Semer cottage near Round Lake was threatened but escaped, and other cottages and cabins also were spared by the flames that burned around them.

Use Radio, Planes

The conservation department in fighting the fire near Gwinn utilized airplanes and radio as well as ground crews and equipment in bringing the blaze under control. In the state plane were Bernard A. Stephansky of Marquette, regional forest supervisor, and John Chriske of Escanaba, district supervisor.

Starting Tuesday afternoon, the fire burned over cut over land and destroyed a logging camp in its path. It was brought under control Wednesday.

Following the return of the state plane to the Marquette airport, a private plane piloted by J. M. Pietro of National Mine was hired to fly Chriske to a fire that started yesterday north of Saint Nicholas in Delta county. The fire burned one and one-half acres before being brought under control. Four attempts to take off from a farmer's field failed, and Chriske returned to Marquette to pick up his car.

Today about 40 men are stationed at the Gwinn fire to keep it under control. Eight other fires were extinguished in Marquette county yesterday, the largest burning about 30 acres.

Riding with Recla was Miss Genevieve Tomasi of Hermansville and both sustained body bruises and cuts. They were not hospitalized.

Smith and his wife had been out picking lilacs prior to the accident and a bee which had been hidden in the flowers was believed to have distracted Smith's attention from the wheel at the time of the crash.

ST. ANN SCHOOL GRADUATES 40

23 Ninth Graders And 17 Eighth Graders

St. Ann Catholic school in Escanaba, maintained by the parish of St. Ann, will graduate 23 ninth graders and 17 eight graders this year, it was announced today.

For both groups of students it is their last year in the parochial school. The ninth grade, taught in the school for the past two years, will be discontinued and Catholic students in the school will enter public schools for ninth grade schooling.

Eighth grade students were presented their diplomas at exercises held last night in St. Ann Chapel. Rev. Fr. Maier, pastor of the parish, presented the diplomas and addressed the students. Students entered the chapel in a processional march and renewed their baptismal vows.

Thursday night, the eighth graders will have an informal party in the Knights of Columbus clubrooms, from 7-10.

On Friday, all students of the school will attend mass and receive Holy Communion, as a grand finale to the school year. Report cards will also be issued Friday.

Ninth grade students received their certificates at exercises held last Sunday, with Father Maier delivering the principal address on the carrying over of Catholic principles of thought and conduct into life.

Ninth graders held their banquet at the Dells Tuesday night, with Father Sebastian Maier, Father Clement LePine, and parents, as special guests. Rosemary LaBranche, high honor student, delivered the valedictory address, and Audrey Beach, also a high honor student, read the class will. Other honor graduates were Verna Paquette, who was toastmistress for the banquet; Patricia Garrett, who read the class prophecy; and Janet Rice, who presented the class mementoes.

Following the banquet, the ninth grade students held a class party at the Chester Rice home.

St. Ann school officially closes Friday and will reopen in September, to teach the first eight grades.

Manistique Pilot Denies Low Flight Over Mink Ranch

Matthew A. Walters, 23, of 719 Deer street, Manistique, today is at liberty under $100 bond for his appearance June 8 in Justice Henry Ranguette's court in Escanaba for trial on a charge of flying at a lower altitude than designated by Michigan department of aeronautics regulations.

Walters denied the charge when arraigned yesterday afternoon. The trial is scheduled for 2 p. m. June 8.

It is charged that the low flying occurred at 8 a. m. May 17 in Masonville township, and the complainant is Arnie Gran of North Delta, a mink rancher. Gran reported to officers that the low-flying plane created a noise that caused female mink to kill 125 of their young.

State aeronautics regulations require planes to fly at an altitude of not less than 500 feet. State police arrested Walters yesterday and brought him to Escanaba for arraignment.

NET $17,990 AT LAND SALE

Most State Properties Offered Are Sold

Most of the state-owned properties offered for sale in Delta and Schoolcraft counties were bid in and solid at a public auction held yesterday in the court house at Escanaba, with the total sale in both counties amounting to a total of $17,599.

H. S. Gibbs and H. R. Bucks of Lansing, of the lands division, conservation department, conducted the sale. Gibbs described the sale here as "very good" and reported that everything offered was sold except one forty in Delta county and six forties in Schoolcraft county.

In Delta county, where 2,155 acres were sold, the proceeds totaled $12,110. This included five platted lots, with one lot on the shore of Little Bay de Noc in Gladstone selling for $1,500. It had been appraised by the state at $1,000.

The sale of state lands in Schoolcraft county totaled $5,880 for 1,010 acres.

Indicating the brisk bidding that marked the sale, Gibbs reported that one property in Delta county, appraised by the state to have a value of $400, sold for $1,300.

All of the properties offered for sale were tax delinquent lands that had reverted to state ownership. Proceeds from the sale are returned to the county, the townships and the cities depending upon the location of the properties.

Dog Owners May Visit Court Unless Change Is Made

Stern measures are to be taken to abate the dog nuisance here, Chief of Police Torval Kallerson said yesterday.

The police chief pointed out that he has been lenient with dog owners in Gladstone and has made repeated requests that the pets be confined or kept on leash in conformance with city ordinance but in view of the number of complaints received there is an apparent lack of cooperation.

In the future where violations are noted and the ownership of the dog is known, the owner will be hailed into court to answer to a charge of violating a local city ordinance.

SCOUT TROOP LAUNCHED HERE

Brotherhood Of First Baptist Sponsors

Recalling some of his early experiences as a scout in the first Boy Scout troop in the United States, Wallace Watt, of Escanaba, gave a stirring address at the investiture of the new troop in Manistique sponsored by the Mens Brotherhood of the First Baptist church, Tuesday evning.

Mr. Watt, the district commissioner of Boy Scouts in the Red Buck district, continued by emphasizing the things which indelibly impressed him as a Boy Scout. Primarily the leaders of the troop were responsible for the quality of the Scouts produced.

Thus the district commissioner was praiseworthy in his statements referring to the fine leadership of the new troop of which John Viergiver is scoutmaster and Joe McDonough is Assistant Scoutmaster. The address highlighted the evening and preceded the very impressive tenderfoot investiture ceremony conducted by Manistique's Neighborhod Commissioner, the Rev. Mr. Paul Sobel. The unique candlelight ceremony impressed on the 9 boys receiving their first pin in Scouting the importance of living up to the ideals of Scouting and of continuing to climb the ladder of advancement.

Nineteen adults besides the 10 boys of the troop enjoyed the other features of the program which included a welcome by the institutional representative, the Rev. Mr. William Schobert, and also by Mr. Virgil Arrowood, the chairman of the troop committee. The Scoutmaster introduced the purpose, plans and aspirations of the new troop and expressed appreciation of such fine cooperation from the parents of the boys in the troop. Several spirited songs were sung and each patrol gave a historical pantomine skit showing the ingenuity of these scouts.

Lunch was served by the sponsors of the new troop and all attending the evening's program left convinced that scouting is a great adventure for boys.

BRUNET RITES SATURDAY A. M.

Child Lost Life In Manistique River

Funeral services for Wayne David Brunet, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell "Shorty" Brunet, drowned Tuesday evening in the Manistique river, will be held at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church on Saturday morning at 8:00 o'clock. The Rev. Fr. B. J. P. Schevers will conduct the funeral mass and burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

The child's body was recovered about 10:30 Wednesday morning after more than a dozen men had sought it all night long. Ernest Derwin, state conservation officer, and James Dupont, member of the Manistique volunteer fire department found the body in the third channel of the river about fifty feet downstream from the footbridge. A few minutes before the body was found, their grappling hook had caught the small minnow seine the boy had used before he came to his untimely end. This gave the searchers an idea as to the location of the body. The body was taken to the Morton funeral home where it has been prepared for burial.

Events leading up to the tragedy are hazy in the mind of the boy's mother, who saw him leave for the river to catch minnows, about four o'clock in the afternoon. When he did not return for supper, the family became uneasy and as his non-appearance lengthened, their uneasiness became alarm. Inquiry was made concerning anyone who might have seen him, but the only response came from a paper mill employee, who stated that about five o'clock he had seen a boy answering his description standing on timbers of a crib used to support the foot bridge.

Search began early in the evening and continued practically all night, with representatives from the state and city police, the sheriff's office, the city fire department, conservation officers aided by volunteer workers operating. Handicapping the effort was the fact that there were five streams to probe, although the rescuers surmised that the slip where the body was found was the most likely place to work.

Wednesday morning, Police Chief Roy Anderson came upon a minnow bucket, a couple of hours later the net was found and then the child.

Wayne was born in Manistique on March 4, 1938 and attended St. Francis de Sale parochial school where he was in the third grade. He is survived by his parents, a brother, James R., his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Goudreau, and his great grandfather, Isaac Goudreau.

"Fat Forty" Wood Cutting Gets Man Into Local Court

George Jones, of Ensign, who has been doing logging and pulp wood cutting in Mueller township this spring, pleaded guilty to a trespass charge in justice court Tuesday afternoon.

The charge preferred against him by the state conservation department was in effect that he had not confined his operations to the confines of the forty acres in which he had timber cutting rights, but had done some logging on state owned land. This he admitted in court and as a result was fined $5 and $5 costs and also ordered to pay for nine cords of wood at $2 per cord.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Off the cuff: The Nite Owls of Escanaba are hooting because we neglected to report their $100 take from the U. P. bowling tournament in that column piece last week about the slim $92.50 Escanaba keglers took out of Gene Longtine's 1948 Marquette show.

* * *

The printed report of the prize money distribution showed the Nite Owls as a Gladstone team . . . Hence, in tabulating the monetary returns to Escanabans, we overlooked the pride and joy of the paper mill . . . So, just for the record and to clear ourselves with the Owls, you are hereby informed that the Owls brought home a $100 check, which by rapid mathematics can be discerned to be more than all the rest of the Escanaba bowlers brought home.

* * *

The five Nite Owls, incidentally, are Gunnar Hornblad, Bert Goodreau, Harvey Gardner, Gus Maycunich and Bob Smithwick . . . Smithwick is the anchor man, but he reports modestly that Maycunich with his 600-plus score is the boy who pulled them through and earned a good share of that century note.

* * *

Irving Johnson, erstwhile pro at Pine Grove Country club, Iron Mountain, who has been succeeded by Al Borla, late of California, is reported to be building up a year-round business at his winter sports lodge at Pine Mountain . . . He and Laverne Trepp, according to our informant, are going into the riding academy business . . . Bridle trails in the summer . . . Ski trails in the winter . . . Sounds okeh!

* * *

George Ruwitch, Escanaba high school grid coach and basketball official, will speak on "Rules and Officiating" at the U. P. coaches clinic in Marquette the week of August 9 . . . Baseball reports from Hermansville were conspicuous by their absence after the Memorial Day weekend . . . One reason may have been that Hrmansville lost, 4-0, to Perronville Sunday and then, 8-7, to Norway Monday in a makeup game.

* * *

Hugh Fullerton, jr., AP sports columnist, offers this potent thought: . . . More than 150,000 people turned out at Indianapolis to see the 500-mile automobile race, a so-called sports event to test technical improvements that make it easier to drive a motor car faster . . . Largely because of fast driving, nearly 200 persons were killed in traffic accidents over Memorial Day weekend, he points out.

* * *

Wisconsin state bowling tournament prize checks have been received by the following Escanabans: Singles—Juel Lee $23, Phenix Benard $20, Augie Gafner $15, E. Heino $10, Pat McPherson $9.19, Ed Moersch $5.50, Harry Needham $6, G. Walker $4.70, E. Brown $2.44, Bill Bougie, Carl Sawyer, W. Kraiger and Mark Wied, $2 each . . . Doubles—Bernard and Bougie $11.25, McPherson and Needham, $9, A. Gafner and Sawyer $4.79, and Wied and Eddy Gravelle $4.

Houtteman Hard Luck Victim Of Yanks, 1-0

New York, June 3 (AP)—Art Houtteman's steady run of hard luck in his sophomore season as a Detroit Tiger hurler began to look like a conspiracy today, with every rival American league club but the Washington Senators in on the act.

The 20-year-old righthander hurled his best game of the season here yesterday, rationing the New York Yankees to six hits, but the verdict came up the same—defeat. The narrow 1 to 0 loss was Houtteman's seventh setback in a row. Last year the poised young pitcher won seven games and lost only two.

Given a regular starting assignment this spring and hailed as one of the finest young pitching prospects to come along since before the war, the Detroit high school product has worked in turn and out, starting a total of nine games, but he hasn't won one yet.

Pounded out of the box for the seventh time Monday by the Chicago White Sox, Art came back yesterday with one day's rest and though he hurled four-hit shutout ball against the Yanks for seven innings New York scored a big eighth inning run that was all it took to beat him.

Now Houtteman has faced everybody in the league but Washington, and everybody but the Senators has licked him. Chicago did it twice and in the two starts he didn't lose he was knocked out by the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia A's.

Yesterday's effort was his second route-going performance of the year. It likewise was his third setback by a one-run margin.

Vic Raschi, Yankee righthander who doesn't know how to lose, beat the Tigers for the third straight time, scattering five hits for his sixth straight victory and scoring the winning run himself.

Raschi, collaring the Tigers with their third whitewashing of the year, permitted just one Detroit runner to reach third base. That was in the opening round when Johnny Lipon singled, Eddie Mayo was hit by a pitched ball and George Kell sacrificed them to second and third. But Raschi fanned Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers to get out of that tight spot and never was in another.

Baseball Player, Manager Charged With Game-Fixing

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 3 (AP) — A former manager in the Carolina baseball league faced criminal charges of bribery today as police followed up allegations of "game-fixing" in the league.

Police Chief John Gold last night reported the arrest on bribery charges of Bernard Deforge, former pitcher-manager of the Reidsville clubs in the Class B circuit.

Deforge and Ed Weingarten, a club official in the Tri-State and Blue Ridge leagues, were banned from organized baseball for life Tuesday. This action was taken by George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, after an investigation of gambling and bribery.

Trautman said Deforge admitted "throwing" a game between Winston-Salem and Reidsville here May 14 for $300.

Brewers On Way Up In AA Flag Chase

By The Associated Press

The American Association baseball prophets picked Milwaukee to win the 1948 baseball championship and it appeared today that Manager Nick Cullop's Brewers are on their way up.

Four home runs, two by Nanny Fernandez, gave Milwaukee a 7 to 4 victory over the fourth place St. Paul Saints last night and the triumph lifted the Brewers into a second place tie with Columbus. The Red Birds and Milwaukee are 4½ games behind pace setting Indianapolis. The Indians set down Columbus, 6 to 5 last night.

NMCE Athletic Star To Have Full Charge Of All Trojan Sports

Tom St. Germain, all-around athletic star at Northern Michigan College of Education in Marquette, has been appointed fulltime athletic coach and physical education instructor at St. Joseph's school, it was announced here this morning by the Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding, O. F. M., pastor of St. Joseph's church. The appointment is effective Aug. 15.

St. Germain, who has starred in football, basketball and track at NMCE and also in independent baseball in recent years, will be graduated from the Marquette institution this spring. He is 24 years old, a veteran of World War II with three years' service in the Army Air Corps, two of them overseas, and he is married.

First Since 1942

The NMCE athlete will be the first fulltime athletic instructor at St. Joseph's since 1942 when Bernard LeRoy left the post. St. Joe, one of the older schools in the city, was opened in the late 1880's and by 1915 had a fully developed grade and high school curriculum. Football and basketball are the principal competitive sports of the school, and among those who have supervised these sports at St. Joe's are George Carr, Carl Kant, Bernard LeRoy, Cliff Frasher, Al Ness, Brazeau, Leo Brunelle, Fred Boddy, Clarence Needham and Francis Farrell.

During the school year just closed, Boddy coached the Trojan basketball team to an Upper Peninsula parochial championship in the first annual tournament in Marquette and Needham and Farrell coached the football team. Kant served as fulltime coach at St. Joe's from 1939 to 1942.

In Complete Charge

St. Germain is a native of L'Anse and attended Baraga township grade and high school, being graduated in 1941. While in high school, he was outstanding in football, basketball and track.

In 1945, he entered Baldwin Wallace college in Berea, Ohio, where he participated in football, basketball and track. In September, 1946, he transferred to Northern Michigan where his athletic ability aided considerably the fortunes of NMCE competitive teams.

He majored in physical education and his minor subjects were history and biology.

At St. Joe, he will be in complete charge of all athletics in the grade and high school departments, and if needed, it was reported, he also will teach his minor subjects in the high school.

Major Leagues Widen Hold On National Game

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, June 3 (AP) — Maybe there's no connection, or maybe there is . . . A minor league baseball manager and a club official were barred for life on charges of gambling and game-throwing . . . An item in the Des Moines Register pointed out that Western league players, not on option from a higher-class club, are paid an average of $10 per game . . . The Eastern College Athletic Conference ruled out playing summer ball in the Vermont Northern league, a resort-hotel circuit, partly because major league clubs were sponsoring some of these teams as "farms." . . . And Fordham's Jack Coffey commented he had seen a Northern league contract calling for $170 a month, which was "nothing but expenses."

Two Plus Two

Putting these items together, with a few more figures and lot of questions . . . Isn't minor league baseball over-expanded when club officials can't be scrutinized so closely as to bar the possibility of dishonesty? . . . Won't almost any semi-pro club hand a good player more than ten bucks for a single game, though that rate may not go all season? . . . In the Class "C" circuit where the latest scandal broke the average figures to about $8, and down in Class "D" its nearer $5.00 . . . How can a professional get along on $150-$200 a month if a college kid figures $170 is bare expense money? . . . With all their farm clubs, many of them losing money, why are major league clubs digging down into semi-pro and "amateur" circles where the rules of organized ball can't touch them? . . . Whither are we drifting?

No Speak Easy

Manuel Hidalgo, Fuffalo's Chinese-Cuban shortstop, has to act as interpreter for his teammate and countryman, Rafael Ovila Rivas, who speaks almost no English . . . Manny, though his grammar and pronunciation aren't the best, always manages to make himself understood . . . At a spring-training barbecue, every Bison player was asked to say a few words . . . Hidalgo did just that; He arose and explained; "Me spik Henglish—semi-pro."

Sportspourri

Western Michigan college, which has won five straight baseball games from Big Nine teams, will be in the fourth district NCAA playoff. Other teams aren't known yet, but presumably they'll include Michigan and Illinois, Big Nine co-champs . . . After their first slugfest, both Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano bought houses—in Gary, Ind., and Brooklyn, respectively . . . But Rocky won't pin up any pictures of himself being kayoed in that play room, which is decorated entirely with photos of R. Graziano . . . "I know all about that; I was there," he says . . . Bobby Layne, who won 29 southwest conference ball games as a pitcher, has turned down all pro baseball offers. He'll spend the summer in Lubbock, Tex., finishing one course for graduation at Texas Tech, before joining the football Bears.

Second Concern in Week Seeks to Build Detroit Racing Plant

Detroit, June 3 (AP) — Business was brisk in the Detroit area horse racing market today as Michigan Racing Commissioner Lewis Bredin studied the second application within a week for permission to erect and operate a new $5,000,000 racing plant here.

Bredin, who only last week authorized a syndicate of Eastern interests to "proceed with organizational plans" toward a proposed $6,000,000 plant in suburban Livonia township, was approached yesterday by Henry H. Knight, Kentucky breeder and spokesman for another syndicate interested in entering the racing field here.

Knight, who operates the Almahurst farm at Nicholasville, Ky., said he represents a group including two dozen Michigan industrialists and sportsmen as well as several of racing's top breeders.

Knight, whose group has not yet selected a site for its proposed track, told Bredin that he was doubtful an adequate track could be made ready by 1949.

Nevertheless he was given the same tentative "go ahead" by Bredin that was accorded the eastern syndicate, which had termed itself the Thoroughbred Turf club and declared it could be ready for racing next summer.

It's Safe To Say Dodgers Are On The Road Back In National League

By Ralph Roden
Associated Press Sports Writer

Slowly but surely the Brooklyn Dodgers are climbing back into the National League pennant race.

The defending champions, after a disastrous start that found them in and out of last place, are in sixth place today, only five games behind the pace-setting New York Giants and two games out of the first division.

Manager Leo Durocher's pitching staff, which took plenty of beatings in the early going, has suddenly righted itself with big Ralph Branca, Preacher Roe and Joe Hatten leading the way.

In the Dodgers' first 31 games the starting Brooklyn pitcher managed to finish only seven times. In the last seven starts Durocher's opening selection has gone the distance five times. During this streak the Dodgers have won five games, lost one and tied one.

Cards Are Fading

Hatten went the route for the second time this season last night, pitching the Brooks to a 5-3 victory over the fading Cardinals in a night game at St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' first victory in five meetings with the Cards, who now have lost six straight.

By losing, the Cards dropped a game and a half behind the Giants who trampled the Reds, 7-4, in a day game at Cincinnati.

Larry Jansen, star Giant righthander, scattered 11 Red hits in posting his sixth win of the year. Jansen helped his own cause, driving in three runs on two singles.

The third place Pittsburgh Pirates also lost ground, falling two games behind the Giants as they bowed, 5-1, to the Boston Braves in a night game at Pittsburgh. Johnny Sain held the Pirates to three safeties, one of which was Ralph Kiner's 12th home run of the year in the ninth inning.

In the American League the Cleveland Indians retained their slim first place margin over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Indians dropped a 2-1 five-hit decision to Rae Scarborough and the Washington Senators, but remained seven percentage points ahead of the A's as the Athletics also lost, 7-3, to the Chicago White Sox.

Surprising Browns

Bob Lemon, who entered the night game unscored on in 25 straight innings, went the route for Cleveland. It was his third loss as against seven wins.

The last place White Sox raked Bill Dietrich and Nelson Potter for 11 hits in their after dark struggle in Philadelphia while Joe Haynes halted the A's on nine safeties in coasting to his fourth victory.

St. Louis' surprising Browns moved over the Detroit Tigers into fourth place as a result of their 3-1 night game triumph over the Red Sox in Boston.

Fred Sanford checked the Sox on seven blows while his mates collected nine off Lefty Mel Parnell.

In the only other day game, the Chicago Cubs nosed out the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, in 12 innings at Chicago.

Al Borla Succeeds Irving Johnson As Iron Mountain Pro

Iron Mountain, June 3—Alfred Borla, native of Iron Mountain, graduate of Iron Mountain high school and brother of Frank Borla, Dickinson county clerk, has succeeded Irving Johnson as professional at the Pine Grove Country club golf course.

The 34-year-old professional has 24 years of golf experience behind him. For 12 years he was a caddy and golf shop employe at Pine Grove, and he served as professional at the Four Seasons club near Pembine, Wis., before going to California, where he was an instructor at the Wiltshire driving range in Santa Barbara. He wrote a column on golf for a weekly newspaper in California.

Borla is a member of the Professional Golfers association.

State Of Nation Report Is Given By Writer Ruark

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—Our monthly fact-finding board has come home loaded— with information, of course—and once again the nation's state is yours for the asking. And always remember, this is the only poll that wouldn't be caught dead with a statistic.

On the eve of the Philadelphia conventions, we find a bullish trend in the market, obviously spurred by a striking new process which allows bubble-gum to be wrapped in a covering which, when moistened, will transfer a simulated tattoo mark to the childish skin. This marks the beginning of a new era in the life of the young, who now will find it possible to wind themselves in yards of gum, while simultaneously defacing little brother's countenance. Science marches on!

The School of Tomorrow has been unveiled in Brooklyn. It is complete with a radio loudspeaker in every classroom, in order that the principal may conduct a two-way conversation with the teachers, without leaving his sound-proof office. The Ruark poll heartily recommends that the navy admonition be used in this TBT (talk between teacher). The speakers would blare: "Now hear this! Sixth grade lay aft to the cloakroom! Working party lay down to the gymnasium! Third grade stand by the blackboard!"

This school also contains juke boxes, for parties, televisions, frequency modulation radio, a moving picture theater, and several phonographs, plus fat record library. Nobody mentioned it, but I assume that the three R's will still be taught, and probably by schoolmarms who are as underpaid as always.

The accent on science, this month. A Princeton test-tube shark has invented a handy, home-sized shield against atomic radiation. It is simple, readily adaptable to mother's mixing bowl— just concrete, scrap iron and a type of ore called limonite. Whip well, mold into a three-foot wall, and you can bring on the bomb.

Not to be outdone, Cornell University scientists have preserved for history the sound of a moth chewing greedily through a segment of silk. I got news for the professors: You been scooped, kids. Fred Allen beat you to it. More than two years ago, he was the first to record the sound made by a toothless tufted titmouse, as he gummed a peartree to death.

That's your country, delegates, as we gird our loins for the smoke-filled rooms.

Cornell

Cornell, Mich., — The movie, "Dr. Jim" will be shown to the Cornell 4-H Club at the community hall, at Cornell on Monday June 7, at 8:30 p. m. The public is invited. Lunch will be served.
